ELYRIA BANK LOSES $8000 IN MAILS

Fire Damages The Chronicle-Telegram and H. G. Peat Printing Co. Plants

Combined Damage May Total $15000; Many Offer Help

TIMELY DETECTION OF BLAZE BY FIREMEN, INTELLIGENT COMBATTING OF THE FLAMES AND SPONTANEOUS RESPONSE OF ASSISTANCE ENABLES PAPER TO GO TO PRESS AS USUAL TODAY — MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT OF NEWSPAPER DAMAGED

The newspaper plant of the Chronicle-Telegram and the job printing plant of the H. G. Peat Printing Co., narrowly escaped total destruction by fire at 6:30 Saturday evening.

Firemen from Station No. 1, which is located next to the printing establishments, were in their lounging room when one of them looked across the alley, discovered the blaze and gave the alarm. Lines of hose were quickly laid and the battle was on.

Starts On Second Floor

The fire was located midway of the mechanical department and when discovered was raging in the stock room of the Peet Printing Co., on the second floor. Before it was out it had worked down to the first floor and burned or ruined a large stock of news print, burned belting and pulleys, wet the machinery and considerably damaged it, put the electric system out of commission and did other damage.

On the second floor the damage was confined principally to stock room, the presses and mechanical departments being saved. Considerable of the loss to both plant was due to the water the first floor being well flooded.

The cause of the fire it has been determined resulted from some sort of combustion in the partition wall directly under the Peet stock room. Workmen had left the office a half hour before the flames were discovered, and the manager of the office had been gone less than five minutes. At that time there was no sign of anything wrong.

Help Response Gratifying

Immediately after the fire a hurry up call was made for help to clean up, care for the machinery, and repair whatever damage could be accomplished so as to get the plant in working order at once.

The response to the appeal was very gratifying. Thompson, the plumber came on the run with his men. The Pallas Electric Co., showed up with their force; D. K. Beedle left his home to furnish needed tin and iron work; John Geide of the Citizens Gas Co., looked after the damaged gas lines. The Moose Club sent men to help clean up the place; Manager Hill, of the City Market furnished some electric heaters; The Elyria Belting & Machinery Co., through Leo Altfield looked after the pulleys and belting; The mechanical and editorial force of the Chronicle-Telegram responded and were soon on the job. Mayor Jones, was present and was useful in a number of ways. But for this timely and much appreciated help in time of need, the chances are that this paper would be considerably handicapped in getting out today's issue.

Word of the fire reached the Lorain Times Herald, that paper promptly telephoned offering the use of its plant in getting out a paper if it was necessary. Later three representatives of the Herald came to Elyria to see what they could do to help. The Cleveland Plain Dealer, also extended its offer of aid, and the management of this paper deeply appreciates their friendly offers.

Firemen Deserve Praise

Just what the loss will be is not fully determined, but the Chronicle-Telegram loss will reach from $10,000 to $12,000, and the loss on the Peet Printing Co., will run from $3000 to $5000.

The city fire department is entitled to unstinted praise for its excellent work in extinguishing the blaze. They worked intelligently, quickly and to good purpose, and performed their work with as small loss to the owners of the property involved as could well be done.

Within a few days everything will again be running smoothly and while no delay in publication is anticipated, the patrons of the paper will know why if that should occur.

CITY COLLECTS $9,000 FROM ARRESTS

Over $9,000 in fines and costs were collected from offenders who appeared in police court last year.

Of this amount $8,841.17 goes to the city and $210.50 to the state, liquor violations being responsible for the greater portion of the money being collected.

The largest sum collected in any one month was $1,783 and the lowest amount was $84.10, the latter figure representing the fines and costs inflicted just after the rank and file had resolved to turn over a new leaf, last January.

FAIL TO FIND TRACE OF FIVE MEN IN COUNTY

Three auto loads of Cleveland police and the sheriff's posses of Lorain, Medina, Ashland and Huron counties failed to find any trace of the five youths in a maroon colored auto, sought after the killing of the president and vice president of the Sly Foundry Co., Cleveland, following the securing of the $1,200 pay roll. Officials now contend that the slaying bandits headed towards the Lorain-ee line and then went to their rendezvous in Cleveland.

Repairs To Hydro Plant Are Nearing Completion

Extensive repairs are being made to the hydro-electric plant, owned by the Elyria Milling Company, and as soon as the work is completed the plant will be placed in operation again.

The plant was destroyed by fire a few months ago and since that time no current has been generated by water which flows over the falls.

One of the generators has been prepared for service and the other will be ready to be placed in commission in the near future.

Current which is not needed to operate the mill, is sold to the Lorain County Electric company and distributed on the circuits which furnish light and power to this city.

MARRIAGE LICENSES FOR YEAR IN COUNTY BREAK ALL RECORDS

The number of marriage licenses taken out in Lorain county during the past year exceeded that of any previous year, according to the records kept in the probate court.

There were 992 couples that decided to take each other for better or for worse, and in addition to this there were sixty more who were married by having bans published. This makes a grand total of 1056 couples, which is considered a pretty good record.

During the year there were 851 licenses issued and but twenty married by bans, a total of 871.

During the past month or two the number of licenses usually taken out has fallen off, due, it is believed, to the lack of work.

Liquor Obtained By Many Men On New Year's Day

In spite of the scarcity of liquor which prevails these days, the police report that there were a large number of intoxicated individuals in evidence over New Years.

Most of them avoided falling into the hands of the police, but half a dozen or more persons faced Mayor Jones on intoxication charges as a result of celebrating the arrival of the year 1921.

A few minor accidents resulted when libulous drivers attempted to operate machines on the public highways, but such offenders were speedily rounded up before any serious accidents occurred.

BALLOON CREW IS REPORTED SAFE

Word Received From Airmen Missing Since Dec. 13.—Long in Canadian Wilds

ROCKAWAY, N. Y., Jan. 3 — Three missing naval balloonists of the A-5538 who had been the objects of a frantic search through northern New York and Canada since they dropped from sight here three weeks ago today are on route home from the snowy wilds of Ontario, via dog sleds.

The trio landed near Moose Factory, Ont., a remote trading post of the Hudson Bay Company, on December 14, the day after they started from Rockaway. After four days in the woods, they found safety at the post. Word of their rescue reached here in a message from the fliers, sent by messenger to the nearest telegraph office at Mattice, and relayed thence upon the arrival of the messenger last night.

The message read: "Driven by storm Monday, 12-13, west by north, at lower Hudson Bay. Forced to land 2 p. m., 12-14, about ten miles north by east of Moose Factory, Ont., latitude 51.50, longitude 81.00. Lost in forest four days. Crew safe at Hudson Bay Company Post. Will leave on first available means of transportation to railroad, which is by dog sled, and will take about nine days. Leaving here Monday, December 427."

If the balloonists got away on the 27th and if they make as good time as they expected, they should get back into touch with civilization at a railroad station, probably Mattice, tomorrow or Wednesday. Aviation officers here, however, incline to the opinion that it will be several days before the balloonists, unaccustomed to dog sled travel, work their way out of the frozen north country.

Members of the A-5538 crew were Lieutenant Walter Hinton, of Belle Harbor, N. Y.; Lieutenant Stephen A. Farrell, of New York, and Lieutenant Louis A. Kloor, Jr., of New Orleans.

ELYRIA PASTOR TO ADDRESS FORUM

Two well known ministers, Rev. Henry Hughes Werner and Rev. W. L. Burner will address the open forum public meeting to be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the mechanic' hall, 3581 Broad street.

Mr. Warner, who is pastor of the First Spiritualist church will speak upon "Chosen and its Remedies—Co-operative Construction." Mr. Burner will discuss "The Third Portion."

Foil Burglars Who Had Broken Store Window

An attempt was made to burglarize the Farm Implement company store last night, a rear window having been demolished by a blow from an old shovel found near the scene of the attempted robbery.

One of the clerks entered the front door of the store just about the time a patrolman observed the broken window and the supposed the burglar was frightened away before he had time to enter the building.

Thermometers in the business district registered 68 this afternoon. Almost warm enough for the girls to wear their heavy furs.

Elyria Increases Wholesale Rates to Amherst Company

OFFICIAL SAYS NO INCREASE IN RETAIL RATE IS ANTICIPATED IMMEDIATELY — MINIMUM RATE IS HIGHER THAN INCREASED RATE IN THIS CITY

Commencing last Saturday, the Amherst Water Works Company, as well as customers residing outside the city limits of Elyria, will be forced to pay more for water taken from Lake Erie by the big pumps at the Elyria Waterworks station, west of Lorain.

The minimum water rate at Amherst has been $4.50 per quarter. The old rate here has been $2 and has just been increased to $3.80 per quarter. No immediate increase is contemplated in the rate at Amherst, one of the officials stated today.

This city sells water to the Amherst Company, with the understanding that whenever the rates to consumers in Elyria are increased, a corresponding rate must be charged for service rendered Amherst.

Private Company

The Amherst concern was organized to secure a water supply for the village, when the corporation was unable to raise the necessary funds, a score of business men having invested in stock in the company in order to obtain pure lake water, rather than as a money making proposition.

The company has aimed to secure a six per cent return on its investment and has been content to keep rates as low as possible, but naturally is forced to raise the rate to its consumers whenever this city increases the price of water.

Has 500 Users

There are about five hundred water consumers in Amherst village and they are willing to pay the price charged for water, rather than be taxed for the purpose of erecting a waterworks of their own, although the Amherst Waterworks company owns a strip of land adjoining the Elyria plant which could be used for that purpose if necessary.

As long as they are satisfied that they are not paying more for water than they could secure it for providing they owned their own plant, they are not complaining and the purity of the water furnished by the Elyria plant suits them to perfection.

ELYRIA SCHOOLS REOPENED TODAY

The public and parochial schools re-opened this morning, following the holiday vacation and Supt. F. M. Shelton reports that all classes reported on schedule time and that the attendance was not affected to any noticeable extent on account of illness.

One of the new rooms in the Carford building on Clark street was opened this morning, but it was impossible to open a second one, as the workmen had not completed their work on the interior of the building.

Two or three teachers were absent on account of illness or deaths in their families, but substitute had been secured to take charge of the classes and no delay or confusion had been reported. The second children surely have no complaint to offer concerning the weather which prevailed during the two weeks' recess from studies and they are now rested up ready to complete the course of study mapped out for them until the schools close for the spring vacation.

CALF KILLING AROUSES EATON

Residents of Eaton are all wrought up over the killing of a calf on the old Cousin's farm, now occupied by Mrs. Jack Grills, formerly of this city.

Hearing a noise in the barn shortly before daylight, two hired men employed on the farm secured a shot gun and proceeded to investigate what was going on in the building.

They soon discovered that a calf had been killed and had been partially dressed by thieves in search of meat before the miscreants were frightened away from their bloody work.

GOVERNOR COX GIVES FINAL MESSAGE

Reviews History of Three Terms and Discusses Taxation, Reorganization Problems of Future and Prohibition

COLUMBUS, Jan. 3 —The Ohio legislature, which is expected to wrestle chiefly with questions pertaining to taxation, reorganization of state offices and departments and prohibition, met at 10 o'clock, members were sworn in by Chief Justice Marshall in the house and by Justice Hough in the senate.

Of the three principal subjects expected to be considered during the session, prohibition, which has occupied the stage in Ohio assemblies for many years, was first

'Abou Ben Adhem' To Be Shown To 'Chest' Workers

S. C. Kingsley, head of the Cleveland Community Chest campaign will deliver a lecture in the Y. M. C. A. on tomorrow night at 8 o'clock on the "Benefits and Morale Building of a Community Chest." Mr. Kingsley is an experienced welfare worker.

The lecture will be preceded by a motion picture play, "Abou Ben Adhem."

Abou Ben Adhem was the man who "awoke one night from a deep dream of peace," and saw an angel within his room, writing in a book of gold. He asked the angel what he wrote and was informed that he wrote the names of those who loved his fellowmen. Abou was much surprised to learn that his name was not "among those present."

The intimate historical facts in the case, not generally known, are that Abou had lived much to himself and had overlooked subscribing to the local Community Chest fund, of that time. This grieved him to such an extent that he went out and made a large contribution and the angel appeared the next night.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER WILL ADDRESS YOUNG MEN'S BUSINESS CLUB

The Young Men's Business Club is to hold their first meeting of the year at the Chamber of Commerce at 6:30 Tuesday evening.

They will be addressed by Mr. Emil Calman, manager of the Chronicle-Telegram who will take for his subject "Newspapers and their Relations to the Communities they Serve."

Fire Alarm Came Just As the Bells Herald in Year

The fireman at central station had just welcomed in the New Year by ringing the fire bell, Friday night, when some scamp with a hide full of white line, turned in a fire alarm from Western Heights and the fire fighters leaped on the apparatus and dashed away to battle the flames.

An hour or so later, another alarm summoned them to West River street, where a burning mattress had been extinguished with a pail of water, before the arrival of the department.

COUNTY LEAGUE TO ENFORCE DRY LAW

Permanent Organization Is Formed With A. R. Webber as President — Oberlin, Lorain, Wellington and Amherst Represented on Executive Committee

A committee composed of the leading dry workers and officials in Lorain County met in Judge A. R. Webber's office, Friday afternoon, for the purpose of forming a permanent county law enforcement organization to work in conjunction with the state organization for the enforcement of dry laws.

As a result the Dry Enforcement League of Lorain County County was formed with A. R. Webber as president; C. A. Metcalf, vice president; L. D. Hamlin, secretary and Nellie M. Hill treasurer. In addition the following were named as members of the executive committee: Dr. F. W. Sponseller, Wellington; J. D. Yocum, Oberlin, Dr. H. W. Powers, Amherst, and Rev. Mr. Grant, Lorain.

Several items of interest were discussed relating to the local situation throughout the county and plans were laid for seeing that the dry laws are enforced, and that law breakers will be brought to justice.

The committee plans on holding a county convention in the near future as soon as arrangements can be made for it.

NEW CASES OF SCARLET FEVER AND DIPTHERIA

One new case of diphtheria and two additional cases of scarlet fever have been reported in this city, since last Friday [illegible] instance being victims of the disease.

The homes which have been quarantined by the health board are that of E. A. Williams residence, A. C. Wackenfuss of North Maple street and Rev. Paul Bourquein, of Third street.

The sanitary police department reports that many persons have been visiting quarantined homes, during the past few days, but that if this practice is not speedily abated, steps will be taken to punish the offenders, as they are liable to transmit the disease to other sections of the city.

Wellington Man Died New Year's On Anniversary

Clarence Church, a pioneer resident of Wellington, passed from this life at his home in Wellington, on New Year's Day.

The decedent was married at the old American House in Elyria, fifty years ago to the day and hour at which he died.

He was prominent in the affairs of Lorain County for many years and the sympathy of a host of friends is extended Mrs. Church and her daughter, Miss Carrie, who is employed as an instructor in the Franklin School, of this city.

The funeral was conducted from the late home this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and was largely attended.

Stove Pipe Fire

The fire department was summoned to the home of B. M. Stants of Chestnut street, this morning, bed clothes having come in contact with a stove pipe. The damage was slight.

Seek Mail Clerks To Uncover Many Post Office Thefts

PACKAGE FROM NATIONAL BANK HERE DISAPPEARED SEVERAL MONTHS AGO — WAS KNOWN AND SUPPRESSED AT TIME TO ENABLE AUTHORITIES TO MAKE ARRESTS — ELYRIA LOSS IS COVERED BY INSURANCE

Some months ago a package containing $8,000 sent by the First National Bank of this city, to the Federal Reserve, Bank of Cleveland, disappeared, and has not since been recovered.

The fact that the package had been taken was known at the time but at the request of both the bank and the post office authorities the story was suppressed. The bank was fearful of a run being started and the post office desired secrecy until they had time to investigate.

Hunt For Couple

It now develops that postal authorities are looking for a man and woman, supposed to be married. The man goes under the names of William E. Lacey, William Lorry, Walter Lucy, Wilber Porry, William E. Lorry, W. E. Leslie, William Laurie, William White and K. Lord. The woman is said to have used the name of Mary Knight and Mary Lucey.

The man is held to be responsible for the theft of $31,632.00 in currency and Liberty bonds taken from packages addressed to the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland. Of this amount $28,482.00 was in Liberty bonds. The packages disappeared in April, May and June. The largest consignment was $13,000.00 from the Federal Reserve Bank, of Boston, to the Federal Bank at Cleveland; the next largest was the Elyria package of $8,000 a third was from a Brecksville bank, containing $1,932 and the fourth was from Salem, containing $8,150 in Liberty bonds.

Package Was Insured

The man charged with the thefts obtained work in the Cleveland post office, and disappeared after the robberies took place, since which time the authorities have been combing [illegible]

The National Bank had their package [illegible] by the transaction.

Elyria Girls Advertise In Hopes Of Finding Pal

With all due respect to the circulation enjoyed by the Times-Herald of Lorain, it would appear as though the Elyria woman who inserted a want ad in that journal, by which she seeks to meet some nice young man in that city, was like casting seed on barren ground.

All the nice young men hailing from the port city have long since fell victims to the charming young women from Elyria, so Miss Allison would do much better to confine her matrimonial efforts to landing a nice man right here at home even if she much content herself with an old bachelor.

THREE COUNTY OFFICERS TAKE OFFICE TODAY

Three county officials began their terms of office this morning.

Lawrence H. Webber took up the duties of prosecuting attorney and has already awoke to the fact that he is going to be a busy man. His first consultation was with the county commissioners regarding the appointment of a new coroner, and he was then called into one or two other offices, and was kept on the go all morning. He will have his office at his present quarters in Elyria block.

Sheriff Backus began his second term. He stated that his activities along the line of hunting down bootleggers and illicit stills would continue.

The third man to take office will be Miles Perry, appointed to the office of county coroner.

Wife's Illness Prevents His Giving Centennial Address

Owing to the illness of his wife A. R. Webber was obliged to cancel a speaking engagement he had at Pittsfield, Friday, and the residents of that township regretted that he was unable to appear on the program.

DISARMAMENT BILL FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Senator Borah's resolution looking to a reduction in futur naval building in the United States, Great Britain and Japan was considered today by the senate foreign relations committee, but final action was deferred.

Senator Borah said after the committee session which was secret, that considerable sentiment developed in the committee to include France and Italy in the disarmament negotiations which President Wilson would be asked to initiate.

Banks report there was a big demand for gold coins for Christmas gifts, but none was given out except when demands were made accompanied by gold certificates.

DR. F. M. SPONSELLER FAILS TO FILE BOND AS CORONER DR. M. E. PERRY APPOINTED

Introducing Dr. Miles E. Perry, coroner of Lorain county. Yes, indeed, the mistake made by the Republicans when they failed to have a man file for the office in time to get on the county ticket has been righted, and every county office is now filled with Republicans, good men and true.

Dr. F. M. Sponseller, of Wellington, who was elected on the Democratic ticket, failed to file his bond and thereby qualify for the office. The law specifically states that the coroner's bond must be filed before the first Monday in January. Otherwise the office becomes vacant.

This morning the county commissioners met, declared the office vacant, and proceeded to appoint Dr. Perry to the vacancy. The new coroner was a candidate on the independent Republican ticket last fall, but on account of his name being placed at the further end of the ballot, many people overlooked it, and Dr. Sponseller won out.

It is not believed that Dr. Sponseller wanted the position, as he lives so far away from the county seat, and Lorain, where most of the coroner's work is centered, but was placed on the ticket without his knowledge, and has since decided that he did not care for the office.

The new coroner, Dr. Perry, has offices in Century Block. He is a comparatively young man whose friends are many, and who are very pleased at his new appointment.

A Certain Young Lady Takes a Lot of Bill's Time

Properly Introduced.

The tourist had just reached the top of a hill outside the village, when he came upon a large crowd.

In the center of them, as he pushed his way forward, he discovered that two men were fighting each other with bare fists.

"What's the fight about?" he asked.

One of the locals, who was egging the two men on, answered him, just as the antagonists broke apart for a breather.

"On my right," he said, in correct boxing parlance, "is Job Hodges wot married Widder Green, and on my left Ben Blinks, wot interduced him to her!"

Not Legal, But True.

"You are accused of attempting to rob a pedestrian at 2 o'clock this morning. What have you to say?

"I am not guilty, Your Honor; I can prove a lullaby."

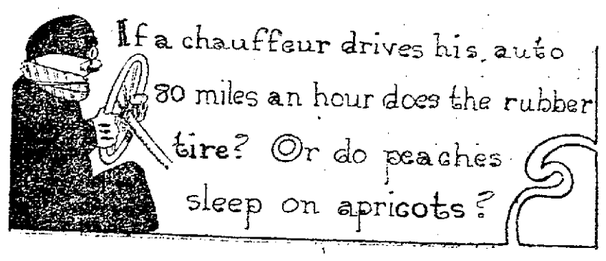

"You mean an alibi?"

"Well, call it what you like, but my wife will swear that I was walking the floor with the baby at the hour mentioned in the charge."

"Shall I go over your face again, sir?" asked the barber.

"I don't mind your going over it," replied the unhappy man in the chair, "but please don' go under the skin like you did the first time."

A certain regiment was almost entirely officered by Hebrews. The men, however, were American.

"Now, I want you to listen to me," said one officer who had been detailed to lecture a company.

ORDINANCE NO. 2449.
TO ISSUE AND SELL BONDS OF THE CITY OF ELYRIA, STATE OF OHIO, IN THE SUM OF TEN THOUSAND ($10,000.00) DOLLARS, FOR THE PURPOSE OF Paying the City's Portion of the Cost of Paving, Resurfacing, Repairing and Improving East Avenue from the South Line of Broad Street to the South Line of Eighth Street, East Avenue from the South Line of Broad Street to the South Line of Fifth Street, and Cornell Avenue from the East Line of East River Street to the West Line of Park Avenue.
BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Elyria, State of Ohio, three-fourths of all the members elected thereto concurring:
SECTION 1. That it is deemed necessary by the Council of the City of Elyria, State of Ohio, to issue and sell bonds of said City in the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00), for the purpose of paying the City's portion of the cost of paving, resurfacing, repairing, and improving West Avenue from the South Line of Broad Street to the South line of Eighth Street, East Avenue from the South line of Broad Strett to the South line of Fifth Street and Cornell Avenue from the East line of East River Street to the West line of Park Avenue.
SECTION 2. That the bonds of said City of Elyria, State of Ohio, shall be issued in the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) for the aforesaid purpose and each of said bonds shall be in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1000.00), and shall be numbered consecutively from four hundred forty-three (443) to four hundred fifty-two (452), both inclusive, shall bear date of February 1st, 1921, and shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent (6 per cent) per annum payable semi-annually on the first day of February and the first day of August in each year as evidenced by negotiable coupons thereto attached and shall be designated as General Paving Bonds, Series "Q", and shall mature as follows:
Bonds numbered 443 and 444 shall mature February 1st, 1936.
Bonds numbered 445 and 446 shall mature February 1st, 1937.
Bonds numbered 447 and 448 shall mature February 1st, 1938.
Bonds numbered 449 and 450 shall mature February 1st, 1939.
Bonds numbered 451 and 452 shall mature February 1st, 1940.
Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable at the office of The United States Mortgage and Trust Company in the City of New York, State of New York.
SECTION 3. That said bonds shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued in pursuance of this ordinance. They shall be prepared, issued, sold and delivered under the direction of the Finance Committee of the Council and the Mayor and City Auditor and in the manner provided by law, and shall be signed by the Mayor and City Auditor and sealed with the corporate seal of said City and interest coupons thereto attached shall be executed by the City Auditor with his signature thereto, or he shall have his signature printed or lithographed thereon; but said bonds shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery of same.
SECTION 4. That the proceeds of the sale of said bonds shall be placed in the City Treasury and shall be disbursed in the manner provided by law for the purpose set forth in this ordinance and for no other purpose whatever except the premiums and accrued interest which shall be certified to the trustees of the Sinking Fund to be applied by them in the manner provided by law.
SECTION 5. That for the purpose of paying the interest on the bonds herein authorized and providing a Sinking Fund for their final redemption at maturity, the Trustees of the Sinking Fund of the City of Elyria, Ohio, shall annually certify to the Auditor of Lorain County, Ohio the amount necessary to pay the interest with a proportionate amount necessary to be levied in such year for sinking fund purposes so that the interest on such bonds shall be paid as the same matures and a sinking fund provided for, sufficient to discharge the principal of said bonds when the same become due and that said County Auditor shall compute and ascertain the rate of levy necessary to provide therefore, in each year, and shall place the same upon the duplicate for the year for which it is certified and in addition to all other levies.
SECTION 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.
Passed December 20, 1920.

NOTICE TO LAND OWNERS
Auditor's Office, Elyria, Lorain County, December 31, A. D. 1920.
In the Matter of Myers Ditch Improvement No. 84. Petitioned for by Mathias Pitts et al.
To Mathias Pitts, Jr., and to each other person affected by said improvement:
You and each of you, are hereby notified that on the 23d day of April, 1920, the above named petitioner and others, filed a petition with the Auditor of the above named County, for the deepening, widening, straightening and tiling of a Ditch, the general location of which is as follows: Commencing on the South line of Helen F. Folson in Lot 32, Ridgeville Township; thence Northerly across land of Mathias Pitts, Jr., J. D. and N. L. Johnson, Joseph Myers, Matt Myers, and Northwesterly across land of Cornelius Mohr, George Myers, Chas. and Mary Sutter, J. F. and H. M. Edwards, Mary Lehotan, Chas. C. Bliss, and Peter J. Youngjass in Lot 43 or to a good and sufficient outlet. Also Lateral No. 1 to Myers, Otten and Buswell.
After examination and consideration of the report of the Engineer and having heard all objections to the allowance of the petition, the Board of County Commissioners found that the improvement as outlined is not carried far enough to give good and sufficient outlet and have ordered ... ...ey and re-apportionment of the same.
It is claimed ... ...provement will affect property owned by you. You are therefore Notified that the County Commissioners of said Lorain County have fixed the 24th day of January, 1921 at 10 o'clock, A. M., for a hearing on the petition, at their office in Elyria, Ohio.
M. H. WELTY,
Auditor of said County.

GOV. COX GIVES FINAL MESSAGE

to come to the front. When the matter of selecting an assistant clerk of the senate came up, Senator Emmert of Cincinnati opened an attack on J. E. Cross, caucus candidate, based upon his alleged activities in certifying the last legislature's action in ratifying the federal prohibition amendment to the secretary of state at Washington. Senator Emmert read a copy of the report made by the committee which conducted an investigation of the affair at that time. Mr. Cross was elected, however, receiving 33 votes.

Rupert R. Beetham of Harrison county was elected speaker of the house and C. C. Crabbe of Madison county, speaker pro tem. All other caucus selections were approved. In the senate Frank E. Whittemore of Akron was elected president pro tem.

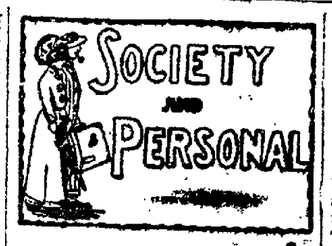

In asuming his duties as speaker, Mr. Beetham said that he "entered upon the task, anxious, though optimistic and determined." He urged members to be diligent in their work and asserted that "common honesty and plain speaking will do more to solve the ills of the country than all the patent legislation that may be enacted."

Senator James A. Reynolds of Cuyahoga county, lone Democrat in the state senate, nominated himself for speaker pro tem of that body as the "unanimous choice of the minority" during the organization of the senate today. He created much amusement by his nominating speech.

Governor-elect Harry L. Davis was present for the opening of the eighty-fourth general assembly here today.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MISS BECK
Mrs. W. F. Miester entertained Thursday, Dec. 30, at her home, 187 Bath street, at a farewell party for Miss Stella Beck, who leaves Elyria for the east. Twenty-five of her friends were present and in expression of their best wishes they presented Miss Beck a beautiful string of pearl beads.

The evening was spent in playing progressive pedro and high score was won by Mrs. Helen Robertson, while second and third were taken by Mrs. Bert Sharp and Mrs. L. Wockenfuss.

A uncheon was served later and the guests adjourned, all wishing their friend a safe and happy journey.

Russell Taylor, who has been spending the Christmas and New Year holidays at his home on Fifth street, returns today to his studies at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mrs. R. E. McDonald will entertain the Wesleyan Circle tonight at her home on Princeton avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Miller have returned to their home in Dayton, after spending the Christmas holidays with their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Wood of Washington avenue.

Mrs. W. F. Meister of Bath street leaves for Toledo tomorrow to make her home there for three or four months.

Curtis Haines, who has been spending the vacation with his mother, Mrs. E. Haines of Harvard avenue, returns to his studies in Chicago today.

Miss Dorothy Wilcox entertained at a delightful "Watch Party" Friday evening when the coming of the New Year was duly celebrated.

Sam Squire of this city was one of the prominent speakers at a banquet in East Liverpool, O., at which East Liverpol Rotary club was organized.

Mrs. John Kennedy of West River street spent New Year's with friends in Norwalk.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooster of Clinton avenue entertained at a birthday surprise and watch party Friday night in honor of Mrs. Wooster's father, George Nevins.

Miss Anna Erickson returned to Lakewood yesterday, after spending New Year's day with friends here.

This Woman Was Nothing But Skin and Bones

Tells How She Gained Flesh And Strength.

She writes: "I was nothing but skin and bones—was weak, nervous and run-down—could not sleep, three doctors had failed to help me. I really believe Vinol saved my life. I have regained my strength, flesh and health, by its use and everyone is so surprised to see such a change in me in such a short time."

Our leading druggist, C. W. Phillips, says that the reason Vinol was so successful in this case is because it contains the tissue-building and medicinal elements of cods' livers, aided by the blood making, strength-creating properties of tonic iron, beef peptone and glycerophosphates.

Thus in a natural manner it increases the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood with thousands of red corpuscles and imparts strength, health and vitality to every organ, muscle and tissue of the body.—Adv. 1t

MOOSE TEAM NOSES OUT GALAS

The Moose and Gala bowling teams fought it out on the Gala alleys Thursday night, in one of the best contests of the season. The Galas led in the first two games, but the Moose came back strong and overcome their opponents' lead landing five pins ahead on the three games.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(Wall st. Noon)—Stocks were freely supplied during the morning, but the abrupt reaction was occasioned mainly by the sharp break in Atlantic Gulf issues, the common falling six points and the preferred four, both new low records. Concurrent weakness was shown by United Fruit, Crucible, Baldwin, Mexican and Pan-American petroleums, Houston il, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, American Woolen and American Sugar, which lost 1 to 2 points. Rails suffered to the same extent, but a few closely held shares, namely, Genera Asphalt, Tobacco and Hide and Leather preferred, were strong. By noon, Atlantic Gulf rallied 3 points, but recoveries elsewhere were less substantial. Call money opened at 7 per cent and exchange on London was strong.

M'GANNON TO BE RETRIED IN MURDER

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3.—Judge W. H. McGannon will be brought to trial a second time on charges of slaying Harold C. Kagy as soon as county prosecutor Edward C. Stanton, who took office this morning, completes his study of the case, the new prosecutor announced.

Stanton will handle the trial. He will not seek the aid of Roland A. Baskin, his predecessor, who prosecuted both John W. Joyce and Judge McGannon for the Kagy killing. Joyce was acquitted and the jury in the McGannon case disagreed Friday after nearly 43 hours deliberation.

Stanton was reviewing the testimony in the McGannon case today. He said he could not at present set a definite date for the second trial.

BANK ROBBERY AT CLEVELAND FOILED TODAY

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3.—Five men, suspected of planning to rob a downtown bank during the day, were arrested in a room on the East Side early this morning, only a few hours after five other bandits had held up the cashier of the Miles theatre, located in the heart of the downtown section, and escamped with $365 in cash, after overlooking $4000.

Five revolvers, two shotguns and a high powered rifle were found in the room with the men, while a stolen auto, which it was believed the quintette intended to use, was recovered near the place.

Efforts are being made to connect the five men with the gang who on Friday shot and killed Wilfred C. Sly, president and George K. Famer, superintendent of the W. W. Sly Manufacturing Company who escaped after holding up and robbing the officials of a $4,200 payroll.

Made Connection To Water Works In Record Time

The clanging of the fire bells at noon, Sunday, was glad news for Elyrians, for once, as it signified that the repairs to the waterworks system had been completed at Penfield Junction and that water pressure had been restored after the service had been suspended for eight hours.

A gang of twenty men under the supervision of Service Director Beck, were at work long before 4:00 o'clock in the morning, ready to lower five lengths of 20 inch pipe into place and to join them to the new and the old mains which furnish water for this city.

Just as soon as the water had syphoned from the big mains, the pipe layers went to work and were soon engaged in pouring 139 pounds of lead in each of the five joints to seal them together.

There was only one slip during the entire time the repairs were under way and that was when Tom Potter let a wrench slip in his hand and pinched his crooked finger.

As soon as the connection was completed, pressure was applied at the pumping station and in just one hour and a half, water was issuing from the hydrants and faucets in this city and officials and residents in general breathed easier as all danger of a serious conflagration had passed.

In spite of the notice issued by the waterworks department, to the effect that water would shut off Sunday, scores of residents appealed to the police and fire department to explain why there was no water in the pipes of their homes.

The efficient manner in which the work was handled is deserving of praise as the task was accomplished in less time than it had been figured it could possibly be done.

Does Your Back Ache?
Have you swollen hands, ankles, feet, due to a dropsical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys?
Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous uric acid, which settles in the tissues of the feet, ankles, wrists or back as uratic salts.
It is just as necessary to keep the kidneys acting properly as to keep the bowels active to rid the body of poisons.
The very best possible way to take care of yourself is to take a glass of hot water before meals and an "Anuric" (anti-uric acid) tablet.
This "Anuric" is a new discovery made by Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. All druggists keep it, or if you prefer send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce and write for free medical advice.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?
Your Vitality Is Low—Resistance Weak
YOU NEED PEPTO-MANGAN
Rich, Red Blood Will Strengthen You and Put You on Your Feet—Able to Resist Colds.
Your system normally healthy should never catch cold. Your body is adjusted to take care of sudden changes in the weather.
It is when you are run down and your vitality is low that your body cannot adjust itself. Then you take cold.
If you keep your blood in good condition, with plenty of red corpuscles, you will be strong and your body will easily adjust itself to sudden changes. You will throw off the cold germs that go flying into the air when someone with a cold sneezes.
Red-blooded men, women and children eat well. They have plenty of energy. They go along with a smile because they feel right.
Try Pepto-Mangan, the successful tonic. It is a wonderful blood builder. Take it for a while till you fe

ELYRIA, OHIO, MONDAY, JANUARY 3, 1921

INAUGURATION OR CARNIVAL?

According to word from Washington, the Harding and Coolidge inauguration ceremonies on March 4th will go to the extreme in both lavishness and ostentatious display. The inaugural ball, a historic feature until omitted at the request of President Wilson in 1917, is to be revived.

This information will of course be a source of much gratification to those to whom social contact is precious and which will be participated in by but a few thousand and holds little or no interest to the masses.

Little is heard of the actual plans for the solemn ceremony of the inauguration proper. The masses are to be entertained in the evening of inauguration day with a Mardi Gras on Pennsylvania avenue, which is to be roped off for the occasion, merely a side issue to the main attraction at the capitol.

Thus it is evident that frippery and splurge will overshadow the solemnity and impressiveness of the inauguration proper.

It is to be hoped that those in charge of the inauguration demonstrate their patriotism and good sense and help maintain the country's balance during these troublesome days, by staying within the limits prescribed by dignity, economy and good taste.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

President Obregon of Mexico distinguishes the first period of his incumbency by issuing a command against gambling within the confines of the Republic of Mexico. "The roulette wheel, the faro bank, the wheel of fortune and the elusive Monte must go," he says.

It is evident that Obregon wants his people to enjoy more than civil peace and has planned for their economic independence by educating them to realize the meaning of "Work." He has undertaken a mammoth task considering that gambling is indigenous to the country, like the tall cacti and sand fleas. To persuade Mexicans to put away their rifles and their cards and stay in their fields, appears on the surface to be challenging fate.

Truly, if he succeeds, he will have proven himself the "man of the hour," for our neighbor republic.

FEDERAL ANTI-TIPPING LAW

The enaction of an Anti-Tipping Law by the Federal government is being strongly advocated by many eminent men throughout the United States, who point out that this practice is naught but commercial bribery. The smaller tips to hotel employees, waiters, etc., are unquestionably a drain on the public and an unfair burden. The latter, however, are of minor importance when compared to the various commercial evils that have grown out of the practice of giving commissions, presents and bonuses.

The consumer ultimately pays for the latter evil method either by inferior merchandise or exorbitant prices. The enaction of a federal law prohibiting tips of any character, simliar to several state laws now in existence, would go a long way towards a reduction in the high cost of living.

This is the psychological moment to study advertisements provided you desire to buy. And if you don't want to buy, perhaps it will put you in the notion. The season of genuine readjustment bargains and common sense is upon us.

No one seems to have difficulty in getting acquainted with the bootlegger in some sections of the country, except perhaps the prohibition agent.

For a poet D'Annunzio is getting a lot of publicity that should make his American co-workers look upon him with envy.

A Parasite That Has Lived and Thrived on the World's Blood for Ages, and Grows Bigger and Harder to Bear Each Year

OBSERVERS COLUMN

J. C. Crisp, wonders if the automobile is to follow the course of the top buggy and the bicycle.

His father was a carriage maker by trade and Crisp remembers when thirty or forty top buggies were delivered here direct from the factories, a team being employed to haul them over the roads leading to this city.

They were auctioned off on the square and sold anywhere for from $19 to $21, while the old time two wheel carts, the pride of every country boy, sold as low as $7.

When the bicycle craze struck the city, Crisp became interested in the business and for several years conducted the finest shop in the city, but he had 200 wheels on his hands when he sold out and got in the automobile game.

He figures the automobile manufacturers will supply the demand for machines in the future, but will not turn them out in unlimited numbers and trust to the agents to dispose of them as best they can.

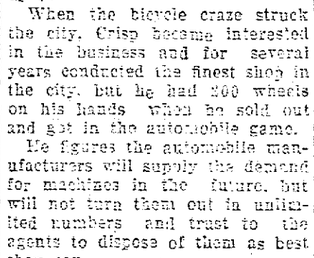

If the production of automobiles during the year 1921 is over 25 per cent of the 1920 figures, he will be surprised.

P. S. Williams, editor and historian, of East Broad street, became involved in an argument concerning the outcome of the McGannon trial, with Attorney Hughes, of Lorain Friday.

The discussion took place while Williams was awaiting the arrival of the Cleveland car and in order to following up his argument, it was necessary for him to follow Hughes, who boarded a car for Lorain.

It was not until the Lorain car was well on its way toward West avenue, that Williams discovered he was on the wrong car, but he declared he would have bested the attorney if the argument had been continued until the car reached Penfield Junction.

Plaisantin offered in payment of a bill a gold piece which had a suspicious ring.

"Here, you've given me one of those false coins that the counterfeiters have just been arrested for making," said the merchant.

"Impossible," answered Plaisantin. "It is dated 1903. If it were false, surely it would have been found out before this."

"Jedge," he mumbled, "mah conscience does trouble me. Is yo' got a charge against me?"

"Why, no, uncle; I haven't any charge."

"Jes'so, mah conscience suttinly am disturbin'. Yo' ain't missed a couple of yo' chickens, has yo'?"

"No, uncle, I haven't, but, even if there were a couple gone, I wouldn't know it. I never count them."

"Dem' niggers count 'em? Mah-h goodness. Mah conscience am appeased. Good-day, sah, good-day."

The little country inn was picturesque but broke. Late one night a guest rang his bell urgently, and the landlord answered.

"I say, look here!" snorted the indignant traveler, who was still in bed. "This roof's letting in the rain, and I'm drenched!"

"Very good, sir!" remarked the landlord amiably, as he retired. A few minutes later, according to Tit-Bits, he came back with a large washtub.

"This will make things right, sir," he said, still amiably. "I'll just put this on your chest; then, when it's full, ring the bell, or shout out, and I'll have another empty one ready."

TEN YEARS AGO

New Year's day was celebrated in Elyria with a big dance at the Elk's. Cafes were open until late and the churches held watch night meetings. At midnight the bells and whistles welcomed in the New Year.

The temperature went on a rampage and the thermometer stood at four below zero and then shot up to twenty above. A sleet storm had decorated the trees so that they hung full of icicles.

Judge Lee Stroup opened court for the first time since his election to the bench. He called the docket in the absence of Judge Washburn, the senior judge.

The police annual report showed that they had made an even three hundred arrests during the year, some comment was made that there had been but 94 arrests for drunkenness during the past year as against 144 the year before.

There were eighty-five deaths recorded for the year.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By Kenneth L. Roberts

Frank Ward O'Malley tells in the "Saturday Evening Post" how he rented a house in a Long Island town without learning the town's name, and was never able to find the house again because all the suburban towns looked exactly alike.

One time I went to New Orleans on a cheap railroad excursion. I put my bag in a boarding house and went out to buy some tobacco. When I started back I discovered that all the houses were built on one pattern and looked exactly alike. My ticket was good for three days, and I spent those three days looking for my baggage and found it just in time to catch my train home. All I saw in New Orleans was one house—reduplicated three thousand times.

BILLY WHISKERS

By Frances Trego Montgomery

When Billy Whiskers settled on Farmerville he fully expected to end his days in that quiet little community where he had a good home, plenty to eat, many friends and enjoyed the reputation of being the wisest of the animals on Cloverleaf Farm.

Billy, in after years, when he roamed the great grandchildren with stories of his earlier life, used to say that the day at the circus and those that followed were the most exciting and interesting in all [illegible] although he was asked to repeat the story very often it remained unfailingly the same, keeping it for special occasions like birthdays, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving or Christmas. MISS DOROTHY CAHOON ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT AT NEW YEAR'S PARTY

One of the most delightful parties of the holiday season was the "At Home" given by Miss Dorothy Cahoon at the home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cahoon of Seventh street, on New Year's Day, but the most noteworthy feature of the lovely affair was the surprise sprung upon the guests by Miss Cahoon in the announcement of her engagement with Fred Bryant, also a prominent member of this social set.

The manner of making this interesting announcement was as clever and as charming as the hostess herself and when the merry party had recovered their wits, they were quick to appreciate her cleverness and also to shower the happy couple with all the loving messages to which they are so well entitled. Miss Cahoon, who is a graduate of Elyria High School of the class of 1915, continued her studies at Oberlin Conservatory of Music and is one of this city's most accomplished musicians, and has been for several years organist at St. Agnes church.

This lovely bride-elect is known also throughout this section for her amateur dramatic ability, and has on many occasions taken the leading part in local talent theatricals.

Mr. Bryant, who is at present making his home with his brother Don Bryant of East Broad street, was a soldier in the World War, serving over seas for two years with the U. S. Navy and is at present connected with the Western Automatic Company of this city.

The young couple have not announced the date for their marriage but it is expected to take place in the early spring.

HARRY FOWL, ELYRIA, AND MISS MARGARET ROTH, LORAIN, WED

A prominent nuptial event of the holiday season was the marriage at high noon Friday of Miss Margaret Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Roth of 310 Tenth street, Lorain, to Harry Fowl of Elyria, which was celebrated at the Roth residence. Lovely bouquets of poinsettas, roses and narcissus were artistically arranged about the room which formed an attractive setting for the wedding.

To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Aurel Jones, the bridal couple took their places in the living room where the marriage vosw were exchanged, the Rev. W. H. Kerkner, pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical church, Loram, officiating. The bride was attired in embroidered batiste, with corsage bouquet of roses.

Covers were arranged for nineteen, at an elaborate three course weding dinner served immediately fololwing the ceremony by Mrs. G. Kiefer and Mrs. Mary Rounds. Cut flowers adorned the table.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Fowl will take up their residence on West avenue, this city. The bride's travelling suit was fashioned of brown duvetyne with hat to match.

Mrs. Fowl graduated from Lorain high school with the class of 1910 and has been a member of the Lincoln and Garden avenue school faculties. She is a member of Emmanuel's Evangelical church Emmanuel's Daughters, Lorain Review, W. B. A. of Maccabees, Rebekahs and is popular among a large circle of friends. The Paradise Soda Grill Company Pays Creditors

The Paradise Soda Grill company was maliciously and fraudulently thrown into bankruptcy on October 30, 1920, when the aggregate of the assets were worth more than four times its liabilities. Since that time the Paradise filed application for composition, alleging that 100 per cent on the dollar would be paid its creditors. This application for composition was accepted in due form by the creditors and a trustee (also elected by the creditors) was allowed to carry on the business However, in the mean time nearly all of the valid claims were paid by the Paradise, paying 100 per cent on the dollar, and sufficient funds deposited to cover any and all possible claims, proved or unproved. This money is at present deposited in the Savings Bank & Trust Company, and will be distributed to the proper creditors in due time by the distributing agent duly appointed by the District Judge.

This confirmation of composition is dated December 30, 1920, after which The Paradise was thereby authorized to operate as a solvent firm, and is solvent. The effect of such a confirmation is that The Paradise was completely discharged from bankruptcy proceedings on the above date.—Adv

Baptist Church Will Support Two Additional Missionary Workers

There was a splendid opening of the evangelistic meetings at the First Baptist church last night. Mr. Neighbour preached upon the "Now and the Then." A splendid audience was present and there were a number who took a stand for Christ and five were received into the membership of the church during the day.

Tonight there will be given the second in the series of sermons and yesterday two hours were spent in the afternoon in the worship and prayer.

Sunday morning Ralph Norton of Belgium gave a splendid talk and a free will offering of some hundred dollars was handed in for his work. This amount will be supplemented by another hundred for near East relief, under the supervision of Mr. Norton.

Yesterday at least one hundred members of the church unanimously recommended to the church support for the ensuing year Mr. and Mrs B Davidson of India at a salary of some $1,200 for the year. Besides the general missionary work of the First Baptist church they have four full time missionaries in the foreign field.

PLEA FOR MUNICIPAL TREE

The gold stars on the municipal Christmas trees of the country are doubtless beginning to look just a little tarnished by today and the strands of tinsel just a little ragged.

"I'm sick of reading about them anyhow," remarked the cynical gentleman who has just walked into the office announcing that he had enjoyed his annual laugh, a laugh, if you please, which he claims is based on the pure, unadulterated sentimentality of the group Christmas tree idea.

Christmas, he claims, is personal, trees in the public square for everybody aren't really for anybody The whole idea is silly and ridiculous.

From the point of view of the pure aesthete, perhaps the gentleman is right Town celebrations of anything from national independence to old home week are apt to be rather crude. The stage settings may be a little sketchy and the actors a bit halting

The voices of the children's chorus may lack finish and the town crier may limp through his lines when he comes forth to read the prologue, if such there be. All of this we grant to the cynical gentleman But, having been generous enough to grant him that, we must accuse him along with all his borther cynics of a sense of fitness too minute for big ideas and too delicate for sturdy use.

There is such a thing as wanting to separate one's self too far from the general run of humanity Once get that sense of aloofness, and life takes on just the pale color which makes for emptiness.

The sense of belonging to the rest of the world, the desire to unite more closely with all humanity is behind the idea of the municipal Christmas tree When we cast off our tinsel dress of superiority and false aestheticism, the tree in the square will not be a mere sentimentality – it will shine forth as what it stands for now in its crudity, an emolem of the universal Christmas

Christmas, indeed, is personal, and yet it is shared by each man with all his brothers The spirit of Christmas does not embrace just you and yours, but all of us

Perhaps the tree in the square to some does seem "hawkish," perhaps it does seem stiff. But it is an effort to symbolize the Christmas truth that we all belong together

LAVISH FUR AND BEAD TRIMMING M[illegible] FORMAL COSTUMES

By ELOISE.

EVENING gowns and wraps may be simple in line and design, but almost every model shows lavish fur or bead trimming. At the right is a simple and girlish wrap for the young miss. It is fashioned of electric blue velvet made in circular style. The trimming is a large soft collar of gray squirrel and three narrow bands of the squirrel trim the body of the cape. This quaint wrap might well have been worn by grandmother instead of her fashionable granddaughter, for it is decidedly reminiscent of the early sixties.

The wrap at the left is a much more sophisticated affair although the lines are fairly simple. It is made of cloth of gold with a brocaded flower design here and there over the glistening surface. It is fashioned on the wrappy lines with huge Japanese sleeves [illegible] and a luxurious [illegible] form a smart contrast. Three immense black silk tassels accent the black and gold combination.

The dinner or dance frock in the center is a pretty model for the young matron. It is black jet made with a plain skirt and straight bandeau bodice. Jet shoulder straps form the bodice supports and a gorgeous sash of gold and black brocade makes the most of its opportunities by forming one side of the bodice as well as a trimming.

Getting the American Slant

Those who know tell us that the Chinese, who are past masters in the arts of manufacturing toys, are out to capture the doll market of the world.

They ship quantities of skillfully-made Chinese dolls to England and the United States and South America But as yet, the average English and American child prefers a doll made nearer home, or at best accepts this little Chinese friend as a curiosity but not as his true doll playmate

The reason for this is simple enough. To the Chines, the normal and beautiful line of the eye is slanting Therefore, the Chinese, with their peculiar gift for following a model and their fatal lack of inventiveness, are making slant-straight-eyed baby eyed doll for American boys and girls who only understand the straight-eyed baby

As far as we are concerned the fact that the Chinese are not selling as many dolls in this country as they might, is only an aside. What really interests us is that in one way or another most of us insist upon making giant [illegible] dolls for our straight-eyed friends.

Because we are used to looking at things from a certain angle, we can never believe that the rest of the world doesn't see them at the same angle.

With all the good intentions in the world, we plan the lives of our families and friends to suit ourselves and conscientiously buy our fathers' gum drops because we like the taste

There is the slant-eyed husband, for instance, who never quite learns what sort of furs and jewelry his wife likes best, and persists in buying her Christmais presents which he imagines she ought to like instead of the ones which, with a little detective work, he might discover really suited her taste.

But gifts aren't half as vital as ideas. It would be bad enough if we only chose things for other people because we like them ourselves. But most of us insist upon harassing them with our own peculiar slant-eyed ideas while it may be that the particular angle of their minds is in an utterly different direction. It's great thing to have enoguh imagination to understand that the idea with which we are perfectly at home may seem a bit foreign to the next fellow If the Chinese understood that they would do a bigger business, and if some of us Americans understood it., there would be a good deal less friction here and there.

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

GWENDA POSES AGAIN.

Several days after that day Gwenda posed for Fedya Stepanoff, but never again, by word or look did he in any way betray himself or his feelings to her. It was as though, with his scene of that other afternoon, he had closed the incident within himself. In some mysterious way known only to the heart of a Russian.

He painted away in masterful style, and the work grew and developed wonderfully. Gwenda and he chatted away gaily—and were the best of friends.

He told her of his early struggles in America, of his trip over on the boat, as a poor boy, and of his amazement and fright when he had first seen the vastness of New York. He had had a varied career before he had started upon his chosen work. First he had wandered about looking for odd jobs. Then he had eagerly grabbed up the position of butter-cake maker at one of the many silent, white eating places with which New York is infested. Disgusted with that, he became a tailor's apprentice for several months. This, too, proved dull, and at last he had become assistant to a young sculptor, a countryman of his. It was here that he finally got encouragement and enough financial assistance to get a studio and start in upon his own work. Ever since that time he had forged ahead.

Now, from the heights of his success, he could afford to look back at those dark times and laugh "They were good for me, all the same," he acknowledged "They taught me the full value of success, the success that comes from genuine struggle, or rather after much struggling, single-handed. I have made every inch of my way, myself. No one has advertised me, nor have I accepted any boosts other than those that came in a financial way from fellow artists who were interested in seeing me get on. It's a fine thing to look back on Miss Gwenda"

And Gwenda realized just how fine a character it was who was talking to her. A dreamer, a true artist and idealist, who never once had "sold out."

She watched, with absorbing interest, her own likeness grow and glisten before her under the inspired fingers of this man. And gradually, as her own lovely features through his conception of her expanded on his canvas, Gwenda began to feel strangely attracted to the painter. Fedya. She loved to stand and watch his long, delicate fingers creating his fancies of her, and to catch the far-away look in his eyes, when he half closed them, and seemed shut off from a whole fact-made world, and even her, as a woman of flesh and blood.

He was always very quiet and completely absorbed in his work, and Gwenda felt that all she might and Gwenda felt that after all she might have been mistaken in her idea that he was beginning to care for her in some way that she could never care for him. She was so unused to men and their ways that it was no doubt just her fancy, after all—silly girl that she was.

"How I wish that I were in your shoes, Gwenda," said Fern sadly, one evening, when Gwenda returned from a hard day's posing.

PLANE WRECKED IN FALL NEAR WELLINGTON

WELLINGTON, Jan. 3.—A southbound airplane was smashed and nearly burned up near Rochester.

The cause of the accident was the clogging of the gasoline feed line to the engine, resulting in the side of the engine being blown off, setting the plane on fire and forcing it out of control. Fortunately for the pilot he was not hurt.

The farmers came to the rescue, and the fire was extinguished before the gasoline tank, which was full, exploded. The plane was badly shattered.

The pilot returned to Cleveland on the evening train.

HARRY BENNETT, 80, DIES AT WELLINGTON

WELLINGTON, Jan. 3—Harry Bennett, who has been in failing health for some time, died at his home Thursday night. The immediate cause of death was the apoplectic stroke he suffered earlier in the week. He was in his 81st year.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Jan. 2 at the home, conducted by the Masons.

Mr. Bennett has been a resident of this place for a great many years and was a highly respected citizen.

MAY COMPLETE KING'S TRIAL WEDNESDAY

LORAIN, O., Jan. 3.—The civil service commission expects to complete the trial of A. A. King, ousted police chief, Wednesday night. The prosecution has completed. Witnesses for the defense will start testifying commencing at ten o'clock Wednesday morning. The principal witnesses for the defense will be the charge of appropriation $480 for personal use after the raid of the Traveler's Social Club. King's witness will testify that this money was returned to detectives who used the money to get evidence in a poker game. This charge is the most serious of the sixteen filed against King by Mayor W. F. Grall.

"We think we have sufficient evidence to corroborate our removing King from office", said Mayor Grall today.

In the event that King is ruled out of office, attorneys for King will carry the case to the common pleas court

A motion to re-instate King was overruled by the civil service commission.

The trial has been in periodical progress since last August.

LORAIN MAN INJURED RATHER MYSTERIOUSLY

LORAIN, Jan. —Mystery surrounds the accident to George Creaser, Stop 58, on the Lake Shore.

Creaser is in the hospital today suffering from a severe laceration of the forehead. injuries of the hip and a dislocated left shoulder.

How, when and where he got hurt he does not know.

Nor does anybody else.

When interviewed at the hospital this morning, Creaser was asked where he received his injuries.

"It is a mystery to me." was his only reply.

LORAIN WOMAN HOLDS THREE POLICEMEN AT BAY WITH REVOLVER

LORAIN, Jan. 3.—Three Lorain patrolmen courted death when they raided the Garyan home on Dallas avenue in search of liquor.

They were held at bay at the point of a loaded revolver in the hands of an enraged woman who threatened to kill them if anything was removed from the house.

The policemen were Sergeant Wright and Patrolmen F. A. Meister and George Kirk.

Police began a search of the home.

They discovered several articles of new clothing. They began to question the son. Mrs. Garyan arose from her bed and entered the room.

She ordered the officers from the house. They refused to go. She went to another room and returned with a revolver, levelled straight at the trio.

"If you take that I'll shoot you," she said.

COUNTY RECORDER, WHO WAS INJURED, BETTER

LORAIN, Jan. 3—Frank Irish, 506 Hamilton avenue, county recorder, who received a badly crushed foot when it was run over by a street car, Thursday, was reported as in an improved condition today.

Irish slept for the first time since his injury, a few hours Saturday. He has been suffering severe pain.

ANOTHER PHONEY BILL IS FOUND AT LORAIN

LORAIN, Jan. 3.—Police unearthed another counterfeit ten dollar bill, several of which are believed to be in circulation here.

The bill was detected when John Porostoky, 1637 East 31st street, tendered it a milkman in payment for a bill.

It was discovered the money was a $2 bill with the numeral 10 pasted in the corners.

Porostoky claimed he had received it in change at a hardware store and that he did not know it was phony.

Federal authorities have already arrested one man here in connection with the case He was taken into custody a week ago on a fraud charge.

In Tokyo, Japan, there are more than 3000 children who have no opportunity of attending school. They live with their parents on small boats which ply up and down the Sumida, and around the canals of the city.

19 Eggs A Day From 23 Hens, In Winter

Mr. Dunl's Hens Increased Every Day. Plan is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don Sung, we got 4 to 6 eggs a day; in three weeks, we were getting 10 to 12 a day; in five weeks we got 15 eggs a day."—John Dunl, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mr. Dunl started giving Don Sung in January, in zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in winter when hens usually loaf. A trial costs nothing. Here's our offer:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs no matter how cold or wet the weather.

You can obtain Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war tax) for a package by mail. Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALES

AT THE LORAIN DRY GOODS CO.

LORAIN, OHIO

THE MOST STUPENDOUS DISPOSAL SALE EVER HELD AT THIS STORE

There are many reasons for the gigantieness of this year's clearance Sale. The backwardness of the season is one of the chief causes. Another reason is that the public has been buying sparingly, waiting for still lower prices.

At the beginning of the season we purchased a tremendous stock of merchandise, for we anticipated a big season. All these goods were bought at the old prices. Then came the break. Although we've made readjustments to conform to the reductions made at the wholesale centers, our immense stocks did not move with rapidity. The weather was against us, and as a result our stocks are bigger than they would be if we had cold and blustry days.

Because of our predicament, you are given the most amazing bargain opportunities—values that vividly recall those good old low-price days of 1914. We cut prices on practically every article in the store. No attention has been paid to what the goods cost or to our profits on them. Our only thought is to clear out our stocks, and we believe at their new reductions they will move out in double-quick time.

METRO ALL STAR CAST IN "THE HOPE"

Marguerite de la Motte, who is appearing in the screen version of "The Hope," the famous spectacle at the American theatre, is a comparative newcomer on the silver sheet. She made her first appearance about fifteen months ago with Douglas Fairbanks in "Arizona."

She literally danced her way on to the screen. Like Ruth Stonehouse, who plays Olive Whitburn Lady Brenda's dearest friend in "The Hope," she was a professional dancer, and it was the effective pantomimic ability she showed on the stage that attracted motion picture managers.

"There's a very close connection between dancing, as understood through its development in the art of pantomime, and motion picture acting," says Miss de la Motte. "The differences are practicably negligible. Of course I don't mean by dancing just moving the feet. I mean it as an expression of life and emotion by means of the eyes, the hands—the whole expression of the face and the body."

However close the expression may be Mis d la Motte's experience proved that she was ready for leading roles from the time of her first appearance.

'OCCASIONALLY YOURS' COMING TO STRAND

It's a tough break when, just as you're convinced you have placed the skids under an old love, you find she has married the father of your fiance, and become your future mother-in-law. This is the sort of a love mess Lew Cody, the screen Lothario, wishes on himself in "Occasionally Yours," his latest Robertson-Cole super-spec which opens at the Strand theater tomorrow for a three days' run.

How does he get out of it Go see the picture. What's a fiance to "Lovable Lew" when trouble is in sight. Mr. Cody is at his best in "Occasionally Yours," and why shouldn't he be when you consider that he has beautiful Betty Blythe, Elinor Fair, Lillian Rambeau, Dorothy Wallace, Cleo Ridgely, Yvonne Gardelle, William Quinn, Barney Sherry and Lloyd Hamilton to support him.

'Mutt and Jeff' Open at Rialto Theater Tonight

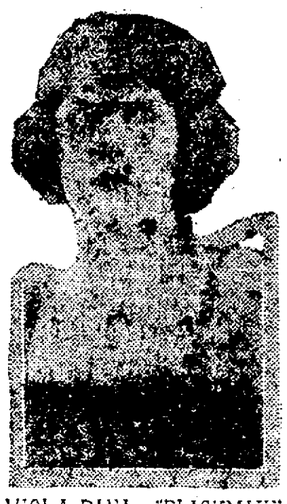

The lovers of good, wholesome comedy will be delighted to learn that Mutt and Jeff, the two comics of World-wide fame, are announced at the Rialto Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 3 and 4. It is said that in this season's offering they have outdone their past performances, and in "Mutt and Jeff at the Races," the title of the new book, present an entertainment far more pretentious and novel than any of their preceding offerings. The adventures of the "long and short of it," as Mutt and Jeff are familiarly known, are always a source of delight and interest to the admirers of this illustrious and facetious pair. In their latest vehicle, which is divided into three acts, they are at their best, disseminating enough screams to make Rome howl and send grouchers and the "blues" to the tall timbers to die from ennui.

'BLACKMAIL' BIG DRAWING AT COLONIAL

As a story of the higher class artist in the crook world, "Blackmail," a Metro special production which was shown yesterday at the Colonial theatre, furnished a wealth of thrills intertwined with an unusual love theme. "Blackmail" is a screen version of the popular story of Lucia Chamberlain which was published in The Saturday Evening Post.

Viola Dana as the shrewd daughter of the master crook was a charming adventuress in the plot which ends with love triumphant over the criminal teachings of her father. She is capably supported by a cast which includes Wyndham Standing, Florence Turner, Edward Cecil, Lydia Knott, Fred Kelsey and Jack Roi.

A. S. LeVino scenarioized the story which was directed by Dallas M. Fitzgerald and photographed by John Arnold. The special art interiors were by A. R. Mantz.

'THE DAUGHTER OF DEVIL DAN' APPEARS AT STRAND THEATER

In the special Buffalo Motion Picture corporation production, "The Daughter of Devil Dan," which is appearing at the Strand theatre this week, one of the very touching situations of the film is the refusal of Major Pendleton to give a home to his daughter's babe, when the mother dies. The daughter is played by Irma Harrison and the male lead is interpreted by Kepmton Greene.

AS a wild thing, wounded to the death, by instinct slips away to hide, so did Olive Whitburn—jilted by the man she worshipped—vanish from the midst of gorgeous gayety of the Durbar in India. Where did she go? What fate overtook her? And what effect did her disappearance have upon the destinies of those who loved her?

SUCH absorbing incidents and questions as these earned great success for Cecil Raleigh's and Henry Hamilton's Super-Melodrama when it scored a tremendous success on the stage.

PROF. HUBBARD TELLS OF WORK IN FAR EAST

A first-hand description of the famine conditions in China which vies with Europe in its need for food this winter, has come in a letter from Professor George D. Hubbard, who is professor of geology at Oberlin, is spending this year in a leave of absence on gelological studies which will take him round the world, most of his time, however, being spent in West China.

Entire Truth Lacking.

He writes, "I only wish I could tell the whole truth, but that cannot be known. China is large, her people ignorant and superstitious and largely unconcerned with each other. She has almost no telephones even in cities, fewer telegraphs save in railroads and her means of transportation are worse yet. One can't learn the exact condition nor the truth anywhere because of these difficulties.

"The famine is a reality and will be until next June when the new wheat crop can be harvasted in the afflicted districts. Areas affected are not continuous over large tracts. No stricken village is as much as four hundred miles from plenty. There is an abundance of food in China, good wholesome food, too. If the famine were scattered over the United States as it is over China, relief would be given to almost every family with little trouble, because we are not in the same social and political condition as China. We care whether our neighboring states suffer or not. Our officials care. The majority of the more honest and public spirited. We can learn the whole situation in a week or two at we do it and can grant relief at once where needed. China is not so good in any one of these points.

"Areas affected in China, (see our best atlas), are southern Chihli, the province containing Peking, Western Shantung, patches in Shansi, eastern Honan and parts of Uganhwini. There is also trouble in parts of Hupeli, southwest of Hankow. In all but the last area, the cause of shortage of food is lack of rain. In Hupeli the cause is river floods destroying crops and in some cases homes, stock and all. No survey of this area has been made and very little effort is put forth to relieve the poor people. New shacks in clusters are being put up by the refugees, near the river, where fish can be caught, but where flood next summer may disturb them again.

"Lack of rain is a common condition over nearly all of the provinces named above. Precipitation is rarely sufficient for a crop but irrigation both from streams and from wells is pretty generally protected. What happened is that no rain fell over much of this troubled area for fifteen months and even water for irrigation could not be had in many places. Some very excellent wheat, millet and vegetables are found even in districts quite destitute, but these are small, isolated localities. In some places half a crop was raised in one or the other of the two summers covered by the drouth. In other places all crops but the first wheat crop failed. In one place, the Kaoliang, a plant much like sorghum only not sweet, produced eight bushels. Millet produced even less per acre, and is capable of producing more than Kaoliang. Corn was less than one-third normal weight and almost bare, even of nubbins. Many vegetbles failed absolutely. Beans, a main crop, did not half return the seed planted.

"Food is being carried on wheelbarrows and donkeys from purely mercenary motives, into some districts and sold to those who can buy, at exorbitant prices. Those who cannot buy are living otherwise. Leaves are being stripped from trees to make soup and greens. Sweet potato leaves are used in the same way. Weeds are being gathered from all over the thousands of acres of new wheat and cooked or fed to stock to keep it alive. Relatives who can are helping their poor and to date there has been little suffering. But it is still warm and green stuff can still be gathered. Deaths from famine have probably not really begun. Illness and severe weakness and the usual emaciated condition are very rare because the pinch has not yet really come. Well-to-do people may go through the winter all right in almost and district for food will be brought long distances to them. But poor people cannot buy it after long trassportation in wheelbarrows. Men are going to more favorable localities to work and leaving women, children and the aged to meet famine alone. The principle may be defended but it hits the weaker ones pretty hard.

"If work could be provided in all famine areas it would relieve the situation by putting pay check or grain into the hands of the needy. Several projects are underway. Sections of railroad and good wagon road will be built; considerable portions of the Grand canal, now long dry, will be dug out and refilled with water. These will all aid the transportation in the needy places and provided money for the poor, thus doing double duty.

"These public works will come too late in places and cannot come at all in other places for want of public spirit and public administration. Then disease is sure to follow in the wake of famine. Plague sometimes follows; cholera is sure to break out in places; typhus and typhoid are also liable. These all arise where bodies are weakened and where people cannot be usually careful about eating and drinking. Chinese are never over-careful.

"Two things are necessary now: money and honesty, efficient means of distribution, either of the money, or the work and food, usually the two latter. Attempts have been made in many local groups to establish a native or village committee, and a national and several provincial committees have been made up of natives, but they are mostly failures. Neither giving or distributing really belongs tto the natives. The government is putting both the work of raising and distributing of help into the hands of missionaries and foreigners generally with the help of native Christians. It is remarkable how they do not trust their own people unless they are Christians and how fully they trust the foreigners. Missionaries everywhere all through the famine areas are administering the relief. An honest and efficient distribution is pretty generally assured.

In Need of Funds.

"Some funds are beink raised among the natives but they are not educated to give unless they are Christians; and not many wealthy seem yet to have been called into the Kingdom. Still many thousands of dollars have been raised among the natives alone. The sum of $200,000 was recently raised in two or three Manchurian cities, largely native giving, partly from municipal funds. Resident foreigners are helping and foreign nations are helping. Now is the time to give if one is to give at all so as to meet the need as it arises, provide the work for the workers and keep the people from getting as low as to become the easy prey of disease. The breaking out of cholera, plague, etc., in any part of the world is more of a world menace than is the famine itself.

"Local workers are getting well organized here to care for relief work so far as the need is known or can be ascertained. Some surveys have been made and reports filed with government and central committees. Medical men are preparing to meet the disease with a solid front and I think the real peril of famine may be largely averted if the work goes forward, but it is no thanks to China's administrators nor to her wealthy men for they have no vision of such service."

THREE MEMBERS OF YEGG GANG ARE SENTENCED

NORWALK, O., Jan. 3.—Three of the seven Cleveland youths arrested in connection with the hold-up and robbery of the Patrick H. Mason general store at Townsend, to which they plead guilty, were today taken to the Mansfield reformatory to serve a sentence of from one to fifteen years.

The three are: Edward Davis, 20, 3440 W. 83rd street; Frank Holub, 20, 1519 Woodland avenue, and Emil Kozdera, 22, 1371 East 18th street.

The other three Clevelanders, indicted on charge of robbery, and who plead not guilty are: Fred Mussell, 5314 Otto court; Sam Vitous, 4422 Clark street and Joseph Sullivan, 5521 Euclid avenue.

Michael Eiben, the seventh Clevelander arrested, was bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bonds. He was arrested several days after the other six were arrested and too late to be considered by the special session of the grand jury.

Holub said he had spent two years at Lincoln high and 17 months in the army.

Six of the gang were captured in a three-county chase.

'A Night in Honolulu' Coming to The Rialto Theater on January Eighth

Miss Una Carpenter

Who portrays a leading part in the pretty musical play, "A Night in Honolulu" at the Rialto Theatre for one night only, Wednesday, January 5.

In "A Night in Honolulu," which comes to the Rialto theatre next Saturday matinee and night, Jan. 8, the native Hawaiian singers and musicians will be found to occupy a great deal of the spectators' attention. Hawaiian music by the gifted native singers and players has been a great success in America because it is different. The wistful beauty of the music seems to carry the American audience across the Pacific to the Island Paradise. The melodious strains of their quaint songs and the accompaniment on native instruments is plaintive and fascinating. Mark Twain after his first visit to the Hawaiian Islands, said in an interview: "The music of the Hawaiians the most fascinating in the world, is still in my ears and haunts me sleeping and waking. I can still hear the pulsing of the surf at Waikaiki, see the plumy palms drowsing by the shore, the garlanded crags and the leaping cascades, and this music fills me with the spirit of its woodland solitudes." Special attention is called to the ladies' and children's matinee at 2:30 p. m. Seat sale Friday, 9 a. m.

SEVEN EDITORS ARE STATE SENATORS

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 3.—The "Fourth Estate" will be unusually well represented in the new Ohio legislature this winter, according to the current issue of the "Ohio Newspaper," published by the department of journalism at Ohio State University.

Seven newspapermen will serve in the State Senate and three newspapermen will be among the members of the House of Representatives.

Clarence J. Brown, who will serve his second term as lieutenant governor and president of the Senate, is the publisher of the Star-Republican at Blanchester, Adams. Newspapermen who will serve as senators will be:

C. C. Chappealer publisher of the Circleville Union-Herald

James R. Hopley, publisher of the Bucyrus Telegraph.

John F. Burke, publisher of the Chronicle-Telegram of Elyria.

G. M. Kumler, editor of a newspaper at Lewisburg.

W. M. Miller of Dresden, former publisher of the Springfield Sun, the Zanesville Times-Recorder and the Portsmouth Blade.

The three newspapermen in the house will be Charles S. Kay, editorial writer for the Springfield Sun, Philip Wolfe of the Mansfield News, Robert L. Rhoa, advertising manager of the Tiffin Tribune.

In addition, Senator Roland G. Davis of Hamilton, is a printer, and Senator George H. Bender is advertising manager for a Cleveland concern.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspironal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

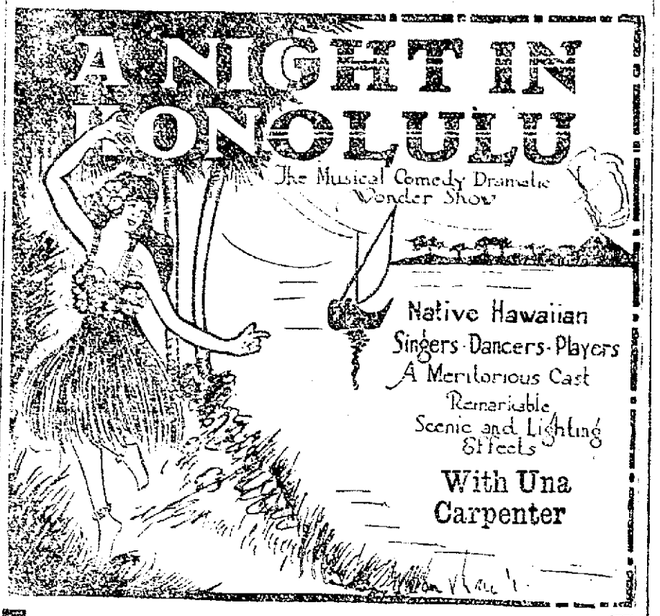

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.

SENATOR BECOMES GREAT-GRANDDAD

Senator C. S. Page.

A new distinction has come to the United States senate. It now numbers among its members a great-grandfather, Senator Carroll S. Page of Vermont. This distinction came when a son was born at Hyde Park, Vt., to Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Hull Page, the senator's grandson, who is one of the clerks of the senate naval committee, of which the senator is chairman.

ITINERANT IS KILLED BY TRAIN

John Sweeney, 50, itinerant umbrella mender, was instantly killed by a B. & O. passenger train early Sunday morning, near the Woodford street crossing at Western Lights.

The body was discovered by a train crew two hours after the man had been struck and Jenkins' ambulance conveyed the remains to the morgue.

Sweeney hails from New York state and visits this city periodically where he engages at his trade of mending umbrellas.

Sweeneys supposed to have a sister residing in Erie, Pa., and the police of the city have been requested to notify her of her brother's death if possible.

SLEUTHS FIND 210,000 BARBERRIES IN OHIO

Government "euths" have located 210,000 of the common barberries in Ohio. And between 80 and 90 percent of these bushes have been destroyed.

What's the idea.

The common barberry is the alternate host of the black stem rust of wheat, and known to be responsible for destructive rust epidemics. Black stem rust causes an average loss of fifty million bushels of wheat every year, or almost twice the 1920 crop in Ohio.

The state and federal government, have therefore joined forces to eradicate the pest.

This year a farm-to-farm survey was made in Greene, Montgomery Preble, Darke, Mercer and Van Wert Counties. In each of these counties barberries were found the number of locations varying from to 100. Since one location may cause a heavy attack of stem rust for a distance of 1 1-2 to 2 miles around, even a few bushes may causes great loss.

Although the bushes have been removed voluntarily, Attorney General J. G. Price has ruled that the state department of agriculture has authority to order owners to destroy the harmful barberries growing on their property.

Shorts and Middlings

Milk should be served to children at every meal. If a child does not care to drink raw milk, it should be prepared in some manner to tempt the appetite.

Whenever straw remains after the stables and the wheat field have received their quota it can well be utilized by spreading on sod ground to be plowed down for corn.

Unsatisfactory egg yields, low fertility, poor hatches, slow growth and development of the young stock, and many of the most troublesome poultry diseases are often due primarily to improperly located and poorly constructed poultry houses.

It is doubtful economy to build a silo within another structure, for it amounts to paying for the space twice. It would be more economical in the long run to use durable materials, paint or treat with some good preservative, and provide a roof for protection.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes —Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During those years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

TRAIN CREWS TERRORIZED BY SIX HALF-CRAZED TRANSIENTS

Six tough customers, one of whom possessed a partially filled bottle of whiskey, were rounded up in the New York Central yards Friday night, four of the vagrants being found asleep in the cab of an engine in the round house.

The gang is accused of having terrorized the crew of a freight train near Sandusky and were reported to be armed with heavy revolvers, but the officers were unable to find any weapons in possession of the men.

They abused the yard crew and refused to allow the engine cleaners to work in the round house, so the police were notified and the whole gang was locked up.

The New York Central detectives were notified that the men were under arrest and it is possible some of the men may be wanted in other cities.

They were arraigned before Mayor Jones, Sunday morning and fined $10 and costs, each and will serve out the fine and costs in the county jail.

Elyrian Went "Wild" When He Failed To Get A Drink

That a crazy man was prowling around the West Side, was the information conveyed to the police department, Friday night, but following an investigation the officer detailed to apprehend the stranger, reported that the man was wild because he could not secure a drink and had become disgusted and gone home.

WILL PROBE POLICE ON MISSING BOOZE

LORAIN, Jan. 3.—Mayor Wm. F. Grall, stated today Safety Director C. C. Timberman, who has consented to remain on the job despite his resignation which was to have taken effect Friday midnight will aid in soving the missing evidence mystery in central police headquarters.

Evidence, collected in a raid, several days ago, had disappeared when two alleged liquor violators were brought into police court for trial.

Both cases were dismissed.

"The administration and Chief Walker," Mayor Grall said, "have been unjustly criticized in the matter and we're going to bring it to light as soon as possible."

The evidence, a tank containing raisin jack and a bottle of bonded whiskey, had been kept for safekeeping in the police captain's office.

On the day of the trial the containers were there but the contents had turned to water.

Timberman is working on the case with the police chief, the mayor said.

Lorain Safety Director Pays For Bridge Damage

Safety Director C. C. Timberman of Lorain paid $19.10 to the county commissioners here to pay the cost if repairing the safety guards on the Erie avenue viaduct, Lorain, which were damaged several weeks ago by the safety director's automobile.

Timberman was driving Police Chief Theodore Walker, Lorain, to his home at the time of the accident. A mud splashed wind-shield caused the accident, Timberman said.

Police Get Fake Call Concerning Gambling Game

Visions of a big poker party in full blast at Western Heights, were responsible for the visit to the scene of the alleged game, but when the patrolmen arrived at the place wher the game was supposed to be in progress, they discovered that some individual who was seeing the old year out, was also seeing things which were not visible to the sober eye.

THUGS ASSAULT AND ROB LORAIN WOMAN

LORAIN, Jan. 3.—Thugs entered the store of Mrs George Echko, 3302 Vine avenue, brutally assaulted her and rifled a cash drawer of its contents of $60.

One of the men struck her in the face and knocked her down. He shived the woman into a corner with his foot while his accomplice robbed the till.

Th highwaymen made their getaway in a new touring car.

Wellington Women Has Arm Broken In Mishap

WELLINGTON, Jan. 3—Mrs. William Foster had her arm broken when the auto in which she and her husband were riding collided with another machine at the north end of North Main street. Besides the broken arm, she was badly bruised and shaken up. The radiators of both machines were smashed in.

Two Masked Men Hold Up and Rob Lorain Man.

LORAIN, Jan. 3.—Two masked highwaymen held up and robbed James Larios at the point of a gun, last night.

Larios told police two men stepped from behind a tree between Broadway and Washington avenue and demanded his money. They took $5, Larios said.

The thugs fled through an alley back of the Colonial Hotel.

ELYRIA The 100% CITY

It Is Very Essential That This City Have Adequate and Continuous Electric Service

Is is especially important at this time of the year, when our winter "peak load" is the heaviest.

We are using every means to carry this load and to protect our service between now and Christmas.

It is apparent, however, that as soon, as the holidays are passed that we will be able to accept applications for new service and to execute them in the order received.

The inconvenience caused by our inadequate facilities to furnish electric service in Elyria is regrettable, but conditions over which we have no control prevent us from making needed improvements at this time.

With the decrease in load after the holidays more of our sub-station capacity in Elyria will be available and we are glad to show every one that we are at all times anxious to render all the service possible with our present equipment.

Make your application now and avoid possible delay in having your meter set after Christmas.

Report of City Planning Committee

The City Planning committee desire sto recommend that certain improvements and additions be made to Elyria's most beautiful natural park as follows:

1st. The most beautiful walk is that along the east side of the east gorge from the east falls to the north boundary of the park. This property does not belong to the park board and consequently is not accessible. If it were possible to make some arrangements with the owners of this property whereby the park board might secure control of that portion of the east gorge from the river up to the brow of the bank, it would add very materially to the beauty and grandeur of this park. In this connection, your committee further recomends that in case this property can be secured, a beautiful hedge be planted on the line which separates the park property from the private property facing on Washington avenue.

2nd. With this addition to the park, it would seem advisable to build two stone foot bridges across the river—one east and one west of the basin.

3rd. There should be a Washington avenue entrance so situated as to best serve the geographical layout of the east half of the gorge.

4th. The entrance at Lodi and Cascade streets should be laid out by a landcape architect and planted with the proper plants, shrubbery, etc., to make of them a fitting introduction to the grandeur which lies within.

5th. The entrance on Lodi street should be closed to the automobile traffic and maintained for the pedestrians only.

6th. The zoo should be increased. It is possible to acquire another from the government and if the north end were fenced in it would provide a beautiful place to keep a pair of antelopes. Other breeds of wild animals could be added from time to time.

Your committee asks for the support and co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce in carrying forward the suggestions set forth in this report.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Elyria Chamber of Commerce will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 3. The polls will be open from 8:00 o'clock a. m. until 6.30 o'clock p. m. on that date, the subject and name of the speaker to be announced later.

B. B. C.

The Better Business club will hold it annual election on the 11th of January. The program for 1921 will be outlined at that time and a very eventful year is anticipated.

Y. M. P. C.

The last three weeks have been busy ones for the Young Men's Business club. In this time they have had a White Elephant Christmas party, a dance, organized a basketball and volley ball team, supplied the people of Elyria with a community Christmas tree and constructed a skating pond for the children on Thirteenth street school.

Christmas Party

The members who were unable to attend the White Elephant Christmas party surely missed the largest event held in the old year 1920. White elephants of all descriptions were changing hands very rapidly for over an hour. They had everything from gas meters to oil cans. Jim Armitage and Red Gould helped entertain the members between laughs. Eugne Burge, famous auctioneer of Lorain county sold over 4,000 Christmas seals, to say nothing of the books, neckties, etc., he managed to unload.

Basketball Team

The Young Men's Business club basketball team is making nice headway. It has received letters from various nearby cities in regards to games and the next two weeks will see it playing real basketball at home and on the road. At a recent meeting of the team A. H. West was elected Captain and Harold E. Wright, manager.

Christmas Tree

The community Christmas tree erected by the club was far from a success until Christmas eve. when bags of candy were given to every boy and girl in Elyria. Santa Claus was kept busy handing out the candy and taking orders for various articles each child wanted.

Extra Time Needed For High Regulars To Defeat Alumni

The Alumni vs. High School basketball game played at the Y. M. C. A. New Year's eve proved to be a real thriller. The Alumni, whose team was composed of some of the best players ever graduated from the local High school came from behind and forced the high school quintet to play an extra five minute period to gain a 28-26 victory.

Regulars Take Lead

The High school took the lead at the start and were never headed. In fact at the start of the game the "old stars" seemed to have lost their former cunning and the only question seemed to be, how high a score would be run up by the High school. The Alumni had plenty of material for two teams and at the end of the first quarter made a complete change in the line up. This change failed to bring better results. The half ended 5-12 in favor of the High school. Stearns was the only Alumni player to make a field goal. He also registered one free throw. "Chuck" Pearsons showed his old time form by caging two free throws in two trials.

In the second half the Alumni came back to win. Their lineup would have won the High school championship of the State had they been in High school together. Pearsons was at center, C. Colgan and R. Savage at guards, and Baker and Granger at forwards. The High school boys knew they had a fight on their hands but were determined to hold them if possible. Everything the Alumni lacked in the first half was given them in the second. Savage, Baker and Pearsons made eight field goals totalling sixteen points. Also Baker and Savage totalled five free throws out of nine trials.

Alumni Has Team Work

The splendid work of the Alumni almost proved the undoing of the High school. While the Alumni had been annexing twenty one points the best the High school could do was fourteen. In order to stop the fusillade of baskets of the Alumni Kofsky was substituted for Koppes, but still the Alumni carried on. Also Coach Stephans gave Hayes a chance at Braddon's forward. Both sides never let up and with the final gun the score stood 26-26. Referee McClellan ordered the teams to play another five minute period. During this time the High school held the Alumni scoreless and Krugman threw two out of three fouls giving the High school the victory by a two point margin.

Both teams played well. If the Alumni had practiced together more their playing would make the heart of a College Coach beat high with hope. As it was they only wondered why they couldn't get to going better. On the other hand their failure to win was probably due to the fact that the High school boys played some very classy basketball. The High school continued the good work that won the Vermilion game. The fought every minute of the game. Also, when the opportunity presented itself the boys put the ball through the basket. With more practice and the same fight the boys will cause Fremont trouble in their first league game at Fremont next Friday evening.

How It Happened

The summary follows:

Alumni	Pos.	High School
Olson	R. G.	Fauver
Greer	L. G.	Koppes
Scott	C.	Krugman
Lovejoy	R. F.	Horan
Stearns	L. F.	Braddon

Substitutions—High school, Kofsky for Koppes, Hayes for Braddon.

Alumni—Weldon for Greer, Penberthy for Scott, Colgan for Olson, Savage for Weldon, Pearsons for Penberthy, Baker for Lovejoy, Granger for Stearns, Stearns for Baker.

Goals—Krugman 4, Horan 4, Braddon 1, Savage 3, Pearsons 1, Baker 4, Stearns 1.

Free throws—Pearsons 3 out of 5, Baker 4 out of 6, Krugman 11 out of 25.

Referee—McClellan.
Timer—Wood
Scorer—J. J. Vaughn.

MANY CLUBS SEEK TWIRLER RIXEY

Eppa Jephtha Rixey.

Bill Donovan, manager of the Phillies, and Bill Shettsline, secretary of the club, deny that a deal is on involving the Giants and Phillies and hinging on the transfer of Eppa Rixey to the New York club. They admit that if John McGraw makes a sufficiently attractive offer for the big southpaw he may get him, but say that nothing has been done in the matter as yet. Donovan says he doesn't blame McGraw for wanting the Virginian, and adds that at the recent National league meeting almost every other manager in the league made an offer for the player. None of them, he adds, offered any player or players worth while in exchange for Eppa, and all met with a rapid refusal.

Bowling League To Start Today With Eight Good Teams

The City Bowling League has completed its schedule and will start the season this evening, at the Temple alleys. The various games will be payed on the Gala, the Temple and the K. of C. alleys in rotation, so that no team will have any advantage over their opponents. Eight teams have entered and an attractive list of prizes have been offered. In addition to the cash prizes Elyria merchants have donated special prizes that are well worth competing for.

The prospects for the best bowling season in a number of years is considered excellent. The teams are well balanced and comprise the best bowling talent in the city. Scores of the various games will be published as fast as they are played. The schedule:

CLEVELAND CHAMPION BASKETBALL QUINTET WANTS ELYRIA GAMES

The Cleveland Skinner's Class AA Basketball Team, of Cleveland, would like to arrange games with teams in Elyria and vicinity, the games to be played on the opponents floor. The Skinners is "Cleveland's greatest basketball team," are holders of many championships, three time champions of Cleveland and champions last season under the colors of the K. of C. Cleveland Council.

The Cleveland five is made up entirely of College stars. The team this year is out after big honors, having already won nine games. Teams wishing to accept this defi and also wishing to seek further information may do so by writing to Business Manager G. T. Jones, 1938 East 105th St., Cleveland, or by calling Mr. Vursonk at Main 9990, Station 275, Cleveland.

The team is well uniformed and is backed by Mr Skinner, a well known and prominent business man of Cleveland. He is getting the best team and is helping to boost his championship team to be well known throughout the country and is out for the bacon of United States this season.

LORAIN HIGH TRIMS NORWALK IN FIRST LEAGUE GAME 16-10

NORWALK, Jan. 3.—That Lorain High again has one of the teams which must be most feared in the Little Big Seven league race this winter was demonstrated here Monday night when Coach Daniel's boys walloped the strong Norwalk High five by a score of 16 to 10. It was the first league game of the season.

Norwalk put up a great battle but the playing of the steel town five was too much. Steagall especially starred for the visitors. Lorain will lose three of the players seen here by midyear graduation and the other teams which meet Lorain after that time will be fortunate, Wilson, the Milan boy, played a wonderful game for Norwalk, outjumping Alexander all the way. Line-up and summary:

Lorain 16		Norwalk 10
Steagall	LF	Kavenaugh
Horn	RF	Bowers
P. Alexander	C	Wilson
Matuszak	LG	Bishop
Klein	RG	Liebold

Field goals—Steagall, 2; Horn 1, P. Alexander, 1, Klein, 1, Bishop, 1, Wilson, 2

Foul goals—Kavenaugh, 3; Liebold, 1, Stegall, 4, Klein, 2

Referee—Harvey Snyder of Cleveland. Umpire—Vaughn of Elyria. Timers—Cook of Norwalk, Mcildaine of Lorain. Time quarters, 10 minutes.

BELLEVUE HIGH TEAM WILL GET TROPHY, IF--

BELLEVUE, Jan. 3.—Bellevue high will be awarded a silver cup in the Little Big Seven league basketball season. The cup will be presented by Irvin T. Fangboner of this city. Fangboner, who is a firm supporter of high school athletics, has presented Fremont high two cups in as in as many years to the football team.

Would Eliminate Fumble Scoring

CHICAGO, Jan. 3—Coach Robert C Zuppke, of Illinois, attending the convention here of the national intercollegiate association, today advanced a new idea for a football rule, asserting that a gain or score made by a man who recovers a fumbled ball should not be counted. The man who usually makes such a gain or touchdown is one who might be termed the "loafer" on the team, who lags behind waiting for such an opportunity, he said.

The man responsible for the fumble and the possible subsequent touchdown is punished enough by the loss of the ball, in his opinion.
